Wonderful Program Given Last Evening

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF
J. H. S. SENIORS AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH MOST INSPIRING AND IN-STRUCTIVE.

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED

Class Song Was Marked Success.—Excellent Talks Given by Dean Kimball and Joseph Johnston, Both Graduates.

A wonderful audience in attendance and a wonderful program was given at the commencement exercises held in the Congregational church last evening. The platform and choir loft were filled with the seventy or eighty people who formed the members of the graduating class. But the thoughts of all were ever turning to the absent three boys who have gone into the service of the country during the past few months. The presence of Hallett Day, of Wilmarth Davidson and of Clarence Anderson was brought very near to all by the song "The Flag of the School" which hung over the platform, and mention was made of them in nearly all the different features of the class exercises. The exercises were elaborately decorated with garlands of white, yellow and pink, and the platform was filled with oak foliage, which completely filled the church and gallery, and chairs were placed in every available space.

It has been a wonderful year in many ways, and numerous opportunities have been given the young people in the schools to come in touch with great things. That this class have been able to do this, showing on last evening's program, efforts which would have done credit to professionals in public speaking, given by all who took part in the exercises.

The salutatory given by Dean Kimball was beautifully expressed and well delivered. He spoke of the gratitude felt by the class in the opportunity given them to secure an education, and voiced their appreciation of the benefits which they had received in their school work. His address was given with good voice and pleasing manner. A really splendid oration delivered by Joseph Johnston on "The Present Peace," which was received with much applause. The sentiment was lofty, the language used to convey the message was forceful in the extreme, and the earnestness of expression with which it was delivered, made a strong impression on the hearers.

"The best oration ever given at the Janesville high school," was the consensus of opinion expressed on every side. George Bassford gave a preliminary explanation of the reason which prompted the officials of the school to embody this effort in the commencement program as it had been given at the oratorical contest at Whitewater recently. The faculty felt that it ranked high in eloquence and appeal, and with the best and most useful of the best men of the country, and for that reason, should be given to the public at the present time.

A beautiful rendering of "The Turn of Mind" was given by Robert Lane, which gave opportunity of showing the fine quality of his voice, and the sympathetic nature of his expression. It would have been a worthy effort of a professional artist in the way it was given.

A declaration, "Women of the War," was given in a most capable way by Mary Day, of Madison, Wis., who brought out the thoughts of what women have accomplished in a clear and convincing way. Her logic was good and the presentation of the splendid things done by women during this last year, was logical and fine. The valedictory given by Mabel Arbutnot was nicely expressed and had a pretty imagery worked into it. It likened the class to a new life, with one hand stretched out to the future, and the other shutting the door to the past. A brief mention of the achievements of the class, and the boys who had gone to the front in service.

A scholarly address given by Prof. Faust called attention to the various marks of the school and the equipment, and the plans which must be made in the near future to enlarge the work. A brief speech made by George Bassford in forwarding the class made mention of the fact that the class motto, "He Can Who Thinks He Can," given partly in the way of a joke, had worked out as being the solemn truth, in class work. It had received the help during the past year from class members, he said, and was grateful for it.

The diplomas were bestowed by Francis Grant, president of the board of education, who made a few remarks to the class showing the appreciation of the board in the excellent work done in the school. A touching incident of this giving of the diplomas was the fact that the parents of the boys absent in service received them for the boys, who were not there to take them. The class song, composed by Joseph Johnston and Katherine Reed, was full of personal hits, each member of the class stepping forward when the name was mentioned. Clever bits of melody were incorporated, and cheering led by Harry Peterson and salutes to the captain of the cadets, Robert Stevens, were also features.

A verse of the song was composed by Ed. Jones, and ended by him in the singing. The whole thing was tuneful, amusing and most interesting, especially to those familiar with the school. An invocation was given by the exercises by Rev. R. G. Peterson, and pleasing music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Emily Savell. They gave a beautiful duet by "The Song of the National Airs," as opening numbers. These young people play very well and their organization is a credit to the school.

Everyone present felt at the close of the exercises that this class, who have done so well in the past, will keep up to the high ideals given to them in their school life, in the strenuous days of the future.

Travel Literature and Official Guide

The Gazette Travel Bureau has just received several pieces of travel literature on the Pacific Northwest and Summer Outings in Wisconsin and Michigan which are free to those wishing them.

While the railway time-tables are being changed so frequently "The Official Railway Guide" can be relied upon for as definite information as possible these times.

The Official Guide, a book of more than fifteen hundred pages, is reprinted and corrected each month and contains the time-tables of every transportation line in this country. It also indexes every station and indicates the lines of railway running into it.

The Gazette Travel Bureau is a subscriber to the Railway Guide and its use is free to the public.

SERVES NATION IN MANY WAYS

Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor is a member of the war trade board and was a member of the House mission to Europe. For several months he has been acting in an advisory capacity for the U. S. food administration and before that performed similar service for the department of agriculture. He was in charge of the feeding of French and English in Germany before the United States entered the war. In private life he ranks as one of the leading food chemists and biologists in the world.

Clover—Nominal. Pork—Nominal. Lard—23.92.

Chicago markets. Chicago, Ill., June 13.—A sale of prime cattle at 15¢ yesterday established a new record in market history. This sale was marketed by W. H. Bond of Paw Paw, Ill. They were bought by a New York shipper.

Demand was exceptionally strong for good choice steers that had weight and finish. Everything from $16 up was taken quickly, indicating a broad and reliable outlet for steers capable of making clean cuts of beef.

Buyers have been up against a semi-famine of this kind of cattle for some time and prices have been gradually working higher with sellers predicting further appreciation in values in the near future.

Few heavy finished cattle are expected in June as feeders in the past three months stored their steers to market in a half fat condition rather than feed for weight up in the face of expensive feed bills.

Some prominent city dealers are predicting $15 cattle by August on the assumption that choice steers will be scarcer than for years. Buyers have been fighting the advance with a lot of active class of steers rather than let the market go up, but the shortage became too acute.

Hog prices dropped 10c to 15c more than stand 50¢ lower than a week ago. Lack of eastern shipping competition in the face of increased receipts has permitted buyers to carry out their bear raid successfully and the pressure is still strong for lower values.

Lambs met with a better demand and prices gained 25¢ for the best qualities.

Cattle Market Strong. Although receipts of cattle were quite large, demand for all the good quality was very strong with the bulk of the good fat steers at $17 to $17.50.

Yearlings were numerous and sold 10c to 15c lower at $15 to $16.50. Common to medium light weight steers moved slowly at $12 to $15.50. Fat cows and heifers sold steady with the bulk at $13 to $14.50. Good bulls brought $12 to $13.50. Veals delivered at $15 to $16. The best feeding steers were held at $13.50.

Quotations: Choice to price steers... $17.50 to $18.00. Good to choice steers... 16.75 to 17.50. Medium to good steers... 15.75 to 16.75. Fair to medium steers... 13.75 to 15.75. Common to killing steers... 12.50 to 13.75. Choice cows and heifers... 12.50 to 13.50. Medium cows and heifers... 10.00 to 12.00. Canners and cutters... 7.00 to 8.50. Bulls... 8.75 to 13.00. Stockers and feeders... 9.00 to 13.50. Calves... 12.50 to 16.50.

Hog—Receipts 10c to 15c. A liberal run of swine estimated at 34,000 head proved an excessive supply for the market and prices dropped 10c to 15c more, making the market 50¢ lower than a week ago.

A top for choice light was made at $16.60, with the bulk of the good light and medium weight hogs selling at $16.50 and most of the heavy at $16 to $16.40. Shipping orders were limited, being about half as large as a week ago, while receipts show an increase of 55,000.

Choice light shippers... $16.40 to $16.60. Good light butchers... 16.35 to 16.55. Medium butchers... 16.25 to 16.50. Heavy butchers... 16.10 to 16.30. Common to good mixed... 15.50 to 16.25. Coarse heavy packers... 15.40 to 15.80. Pigs... 15.00 to 16.06.

Good Lambs Higher. About half the supply of 9,000 sheep and lambs came in direct to packers from the south. Demand was strong for good lambs, and values were 10c to 25c higher. Best clipped head lambs brought $18.55, and a top for good spring lambs was $20.80.

Quotations: Shorn ewes... $11.80 to $15.00. Shorn other... 12.00 to 15.25. Yearlings... 12.00 to 16.00. Spring lambs... 17.25 to 15.25. Spring lambs... 19.00 to 20.50.

Prices Paid Farmers. New barley, $2.40 to $2.60 per 100 lbs.; new oats, 75¢ per bu.; ear corn, $2.25 per bu.; wheat, $2.80 bu.; timothy hay, $27 per ton; mixed hay, $26 per ton; oat straw, $1 per ton; row straw, $1; oil meal, $2.05 per 100 lbs.

Fruit, Retail—Lemons, 40c doz.; eating apples, 9¢ to 10¢ lb.; oranges, 60¢ per doz.; limes, 40¢ per doz.; grapes, 10¢ to 12¢ each; cherries, 25¢ per lb.; cocoanuts, 10¢ to 12¢; bananas, 30¢ to 35¢ per doz.; strawberries, 35¢, pineapples 30¢.

Vegetables—Dry onions, 5¢ pound; green peppers, 5¢; celery, 10¢; parsley, 5¢; lettuce, 10¢; head lettuce, 15¢; beets, 5¢; cucumbers, 15¢; carrots, 5¢; bunch; new cabbage 5¢; turnips 5¢; bell, 75¢; cauliflower, 15¢ to 25¢; onions, 5¢; spinach, 12¢; radishes, 8¢; green onions, 5¢; asparagus, 10¢; wax beans, 15¢; peas, 10¢; tomato plants, 25¢; cabbage plants, 15¢.

GRAIN MARKET. Prices quoted below are for large quantities as sold to farmers. When purchased in small lots, the price is usually somewhat higher than quoted because of the expense of handling and delivery.

Barley $3.00 per 100 lbs.; feed corn $2.50 per 100 lbs.; oats 90¢ per bu.; rye, $2.00 per bu.; ear corn, $2.25 per bu.; wheat, $2.80 bu.; timothy hay, $27 per ton; mixed hay, $26 per ton; oat straw, $1 per ton; row straw, $1; oil meal, $2.05 per 100 lbs.

Fruit, Retail—Lemons, 40c doz.; eating apples, 9¢ to 10¢ lb.; oranges, 60¢ per doz.; limes, 40¢ per doz.; grapes, 10¢ to 12¢ each; cher

Looking Back to the Good Old Days When a Horse Was a Horse

(By D. W. Watt.)

A few days ago I read with much interest of the death of John Splan, one of the famous horse drivers of the country, and to give you some idea of the part that Janesville played in the horse game, I will go back nearly three score years when great mare Flora Temple was attracting the attention of horsemen all over the world.

At that time that was the only horse in the United States that could beat a horse able to compete with the famous little mare of the turf. It was about that time that the lovers of the horse harness game made arrangements to give a big trotting meeting in this city and make Flora Temple the drawing card of the race.

At that time a gelding by the name "Honest Anse" was the property of the late Anson Rogers of this city, and immediately arrangements were made for "Honest Anse" as the competitor to Flora Temple, and while Flora Temple was the winner, it was "Honest Anse" who drove her to the victory.

for $5,000. A year or two later the late Barney Eldredge of this city sold a pair of horses, fast trotters, to a New York party for $14,000. The sale of all these different famous trotters and pacers, being sent out from this city, naturally made horsemen all over the country keep an eye on Janesville when wanting a good horse.

Back to the inauguration of the first big race meeting held in Janesville, they constantly kept growing in favor and for many years Janesville was the headquarters not only for famous trotters and pacers but for all the famous drivers the world over, and many times the wealthy owners would be here all through the entire meeting.

The famous drivers who could always be seen on the Janesville track were Budd Doble of California, John Splan, George Fuller, Sr., George Fuller, Jr., each representing the big and immediately arrangements were made for "Honest Anse" as the competitor to Flora Temple, and while Flora Temple was the winner, it was "Honest Anse" who drove her to the victory.

But the smelly old "buzz" wagon came and the carriage horse and the fast roadster were soon damned and a thing of the past. Today there is but little use but for two classes of horses and those are the fast trotters and pacers that are able to go to the races and get the money, and the big luggers for the farm.

As I had to take this story of horses of yesterday from memory, I have no doubt omitted some that should have been mentioned, but hope that this will make interesting reading for at least those of whom spent many days of sunshine in what is often alluded to today as "The good old days."

HANOVER

Hanover, June 13.—Mrs. John Fjellstad and children went to Oxfordville yesterday to attend a meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Norwegian church. Mrs. August Dumrow, who after a long siege of sickness was able to be up and around, is confined to her bed again since Saturday night, when she had a slight stroke of paralysis. Her many friends hope that she may speedily regain her normal health.

John Zebell is assisting his grandson, Carl Burrow, in his farm work. Mrs. Howell, who has been teaching at the home school of Lomira, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gliese, north of here.

Mrs. Will Walters spent from Saturday until Monday in Chicago. Mrs. F. Hartwick, Mrs. John Zebell, Mrs. Hannah Krueger, Mrs. Aug. Kopke and Mrs. William Behling were in Janesville, Tuesday, to have photographs taken for registration.

The weather being so favorable farmers are very busy setting tobacco plants.

The citizens of Hanover are contemplating to buy a service flag for "our boys." Anyone wishing to contribute call at Hanover store.

The Ladies' Aid of Trinity Lutheran church met at Mrs. Herman Siebel's yesterday. It was well attended and a pleasant afternoon enjoyed.

On Sunday, June 23, Children's day will be observed. An excellent program is in preparation and will be pleasing to all.

Services next Sunday will be as follows: German service at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 9:30. After service a special meeting of all members will be held. All are requested to attend. Dr. J. Luepke, pastor.

Still the horse interest in Janesville did not stop with the harness kind, and such famous pacers as Bowles & Madden, Galbraith Bros., Sterker Bros. and McElay Bros. dealt in the heavy draft variety, and this class of horses brought another kind of buyers here from all over the United States. Many times these men crossed the ocean and brought to Janesville many of the highest class animals in their line, which were sold and sent all over the United States.

The great crowds which congregated in Janesville were the kind that remained here from eight to ten days, for they well knew that it was in Janesville they could see the greatest racing in the United States. It was to one of these meetings, in June, that Monroe Salisbury of California shipped twelve of the fastest trotters and pacers in the country direct from his California ranch to Janesville, which was his starting point for the summer campaign. For days before the opening of the great meetings people were anxious to get to the grounds and hear the clicking of the wheel of fortune and the silvery voice of the pool seller, and watch the famous horse owners with their families getting a good position in the grandstand where they could watch their favorites win or lose, as the case might be.

It was at one of these big race meetings that the late John Splan purchased a high class trotter of the late S. S. Judd, by the name of "Honest Anse," who also brought $3,500. It was in the winter of 1875 and John Griffiths, a Janesville merchant, owned a horse by the name of "Honest Anse," and early in the winter of 1875 sold half an interest in him to Richard Smith of Milton.

AT THE FRONT.

Our American soldier boys are at the front these days doing their share for the world's democracy. They are fighting against fearful odds but thus far they have demonstrated they can more than hold their own and give the "Hoch" just a little more than he plans to give them. This is particularly true of the marines, and this organization had the honor of the fight for many days and added new laurels to their flags that have floated from the tops of the many hard-fought battle fields to be ignored.

That the Rock county soldiers in the army, navy or marines, on land or sea or in the air, are doing their part in this great conflict no one need question. They have been carefully prepared, trained, and are fit for the battle as it were, for anything that may come. Recent letters from many of our home contingent show they are either in the first line trenches or about to go there or have completed their tour of duty.

The Wisconsin regiments have been broken up and the companies numbered from various cities and communities in the state have been broken up and divided among other units. This has been done so that if a battle is fought and a heavy loss of life or wounded are reported, it will not fall too heavily on one community, as occurred at Pont du Lee when such a heavy death and casualty list was reported. It is a wise move and while it divides friends and companions it means much to the community as a whole.

Meanwhile today is Flag day and the significance of the event is now brought more closely home than ever. It is right and just the day should be observed and it is to be hoped that in future days the flag will receive the respect and attention due it whether on parade or displayed. That flag stands for this nation we are fighting for and living for—the United States.

VACATION WORK.

Schools in Janesville are officially closed and the students, for the most part, are ambitious to seek work for the summer. They have been taught to understand that labor is scarce and they are ready to fill any vacancy that may arise. They want to do their share in winning this war and they want to start right now. It is a laudable ambition but unfortunately it has its drawbacks.

In the first place many of the places made vacant demand labor of a quality and quantity that the average school boy can not compass. No matter how ambitious he may be there is a limit to his physical endurance and the youth fails to realize this and in seeking to do a man's work he may inflict some physical defect upon himself that he will not overcome in his whole life.

We are told of the man who could raise an ox over his head, but read a bit further back and you will see this same man started when the ox was a tiny calf and he raised it many times a day as it grew, his muscles growing with the ox's weight, until he was at last able to perform the marvel. The average city boy is not trained to the pitch for such physical labor as his country brother is and to attempt to do it is to fail.

This nation will need millions of young men before this war is over and it needs physically perfect men. Young men broken down by excesses, by over-exertion, and other causes, will not be fit for military training and it should be the ambition of every youth of today to be physically perfect when the time comes. Consequently a word of warning is issued to the parents as well as the boys.

Look well to the employment your son is going into and see if he is physically fit to meet the requirements and nothing will be required of him that may lead to future troubles that would limit him for future service when he most needs it. By all means let him work and do his share, but be careful.

FIGHT IT OUT.

Loyalty is going to be the acid test for all aspirants for public office this coming fall primary. Candidates for state office, nominations for congressional places, assemblies, state senators, in fact, even for coroner in county elections are going to be decided upon the test of loyalty. No matter what a man was yesterday or is today, the question is what he is today. It is bound to hit a lot of statesmen pretty hard to explain their actions and votes on many matters where loyalty to the nation was at question. It is not so much a question whether a man is a republican or a democrat, as it is whether he is a loyal citizen or not, ready to further the interests of the nation if elected to office. The so-called Loyalty League plans to suggest to the governor that he call a special session of the legislature to discuss ways and means of insuring this idea, but the real reason behind it all is that of the aspiring politicians who would capture the state and dominate its future politics through an artifice and gain ground by trickery which they can not hope to win by open warfare. The main question is loyalty and the only answer is select the best men available, but adhere to the acid test demanded.

ONE STORY.

Here is a true story of a man who is perfectly able to work and won't. A man who prefers to employ his leisure hours in debauchery, spending the little he does earn from time to time, leaving his wife to toil and slave at home. A man who has a big, hulking son, perfectly capable of laboring as a man, who devotes his time to fishing, swearing and smoking cigarettes on the river bank while his father toils around up town. A second son, an invalid, who might find employment, despite his physical defects, but no one gives a helping hand. Two married daughters who have done all they can for their mother, but have families of their own and can not do more. The question is, does this man and this seventeen year old son come under the recent proclamation and should they be put at work or not? If any authority wishes to know the name of this man it will be furnished him, but thus far appeals to local authorities on the part of members of the family are said to have been in vain. Let's get some action!

This question of entertaining the visiting soldiers who come to us from Camp Grant should be solved by the canton committee of the Red Cross, and if they need assistance to establish a hostess house there are certainly enough citizens who will readily give of their material aid. Meantime the question ought to be solved at once so that our visitors can be entertained when they come here for a Sunday to rest from their week's work of drill and camp life.

Captain Caldwell keeps up the reputation given him when he came to Janesville as a thorough soldier, and is now in command of a regular army company as commanding officer. Perhaps he may do something sooner or later that will make some remember he came here a stranger and made good in Company M and was one of the most faithful of commanders in the national guard units, and he created and made it.

Certainly the Chamber of Commerce demonstrated what they could do when once started with their "pavement dance" for the evening soldiers' night. The success of the work of the Chamber of Commerce is out for it in the future. It will meet all requirements.

Thank the Lord that when knitting went out of fashion a century ago the idea of knitting needles was not lost and consequently with a little practice the present generation can take up the work and do its work with skill.

This addition of a new industry to Janesville with the promise of some hundreds of families moving here is a problem to be faced and the city government must look well to the morals of the community to make this growth permanent.

Who's Who In Today's News

JAMES A. FARRELL. A big, white-haired captain of industry was called upon a few days ago by President Wilson to direct the operation of the shipbuilding board in its efforts to "bridge the Atlantic."

He is James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, a billion-dollar corporation. Farrell is a "wizard of figures." He succeeded William E. Corey, who took the presidency of the steel corporation when "Charlie" Schwab quit.

In 1910, Farrell established a world by declaring that in seven years the company had increased its shipments overseas from 200,000 tons annually to 1,500,000 tons.

Farrell is not yet sixty. He was born in New Haven, Conn., and is the son of a man who was engaged in maritime transportation. At sixteen Farrell entered the service of a steel plant without "pull." He was backed by a strong body, a keen and active brain, courage and self-confidence.

"I worked my head and my muscles," said he when asked for the secret of his success. He performed manual labor for nine years in a wire mill, then went to Pittsburgh as a laborer, but his head and muscle work raised him to the position of foreman, then superintendent and general manager. He quit and became general superintendent of the Oliver Steel and Wire company in Pittsburgh, and later went with the American Steel and Wire company, taking charge of the export department. When the concern was absorbed by the United States Steel Corporation he went to New York and organized the United States Steel Products company, of which he was head when he was called to the presidency of the steel trust corporation.

Farrell is big in every way. He has big hands, big feet and big muscles; his shoulders, bent by hard labor, bulk forward so that his chest sometimes looks like a barrel. His voice, natural and monotonous, seems to come straight from a huge cavern of force. At times its effect is almost ventriloquist. His rise to commercial power has softened the outward personality of the industrial giant, but has not touched his vocal chords. His eyes are habitually devoid of expression. For minutes at a time they are stationary.

He has been called the "world's greatest answerer of questions." During an extended congressional period of steel affairs many big men were quizzed, but Farrell was among the few who gave vital evidence that he was on the job. No matter what he is asked about, he will fire back an instant answer.

His associates call him the "Encyclopedia Britannica of the steel industry."

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest.

MORALE. We hear a lot about morale, the soldier's will to fight, the spirit of the man that shines when things aren't going right, the pluck that whispers: "See it through! The road is rough today. The joys your soul is hungry for are miles and miles away. But smoke a bit and joke a bit, and bravely face the test. And victory shall come to you if you but do your best."

Morale is hungering for food and burning up with thirst. It's standing grimly at a post where shells and shrapnel burst. It's holding on and carrying on against oppression's might. And keeping faith in them who lead and faith in truth and right. It's thinking victory all the time in hours that breed despair. And never winning at the blows nor whimpering at care.

We hear a lot about morale, the papers every day. Tell how the soldiers feel and act three thousand miles away! Yet here at home if they shall win morale must also dwell. We too must smile at sacrifice and bear our hardships well. We too must think of victory and stand to every test. And though the worst may come to us keep faith in what is best.

Reasonable Explanation. Perhaps the idea that two can live as cheaply as one originated in the mind of a young fellow who boarded with his father-in-law.

Value of Common Things.
The common things of life are things we do not value until we know what to do with them. It was a glimpse of a bird that he had never seen before, but which he might have seen a thousand times so common was it, that made a foremost nature writer out of Bradford Torrey.

"Diseased Meat."
There is a wide difference in the terms "diseased meat" and "meat from diseased animals." In fresh pork for instance, the absence of live trichinae cannot be guaranteed by the vendor from any known practical method of inspection, but if the meat is properly packed any trichinae present are killed and hence cannot produce disease.

POLICE REQUESTED TO SEEK OREGON BOY

Earl Haynes, 11 Year Old Oregon Lad Missing From Home Since Yesterday Morning—All Efforts to Locate Him Have Been Futile.

Police Chief Champion has received word from Oregon, Wis., requesting him to assist in the search of Earl Haynes, eleven years of age, who disappeared from his home yesterday morning.

Young Haynes wandered away from his home yesterday morning and although the country-side has been scoured no trace of his whereabouts can be located. No motive for his running away could be given by his parents and as he has no relatives in this vicinity his parents are at a loss to understand where the young boy has gone.

The young lad has lived in Oregon all of his life and his sudden disappearance has caused his parents and friends a great deal of anxiety.

AMERICAN TROOPS ARE REVIEWED BY HAIG

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] American headquarters on the British front, June 14.—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British army, today reviewed American troops on a wide plain in this area. The Americans filed past with easy swiftness, which bore out the opinion of many experts that they are as fit as training can make them. Parading is not supposed to be their strong point, but after a long march to the reviewing ground and a long wait with heavy packs on their back, their line and carriage were excellent.

The Safest Plan

From a business standpoint there is no one who understands your wishes and plans better than your banker and your lawyer.

If you employ your lawyer to draw up your will and appoint us as your executor or administrator, you will have your affairs in the hands of men who best understand your wishes.

When the time comes to settle your estate, we will retain your lawyer if you desire and together we will see to it that your plans are carried out.

This arrangement will give your heirs the very best results.

And the cost is no more than it would be if you appointed some personal friend who has neither the experience nor the machinery to do your work thoroughly.

MAETERLINCK'S
"THE BLUE BIRD"
A Picture and Story you'll never forget
A Mighty Spectacle of Happiness.
A Thousand Smiles. A Thousand Sobs.
A Thousand Beautiful Scenes.

Here is a recommendation that means a lot
SOME people—many people, know the story of Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird." Everybody should know it. And now that the producers of Arctcraft Pictures have put the story into a perfect picture, there is no reason why everyone should not know it.

The Christian Herald does not often feel that it can heartily endorse a film, for many film stories are, regrettably, not the sort of thing that one could take one's small or older, son or daughter to see. But "The Blue Bird" is the sort of film that holds a lesson worth learning. It is the kind of a film few people have dreamed of producing—an idealistic picture made real by splendid acting and remarkable photography.

Several points stand out from the story—stand out by sheer beauty of word and action. When the children go at twelve o'clock to the graveyard to see the dead arise—when they tiptoe fearfully in through the door and walk in frightened silence, past the yawning tombs, one can perfectly understand why folk fear death. But, when suddenly the graves burst forth unto blossoms and the roses and lilies grow fragrantly all about, one sees the Easter story retold in a marvelous way. For the little boy, astounded asks—"Where are the dead?" and the girl child, with a triumphant smile upon her face answers—"There are no dead!"

The moving picture has come to stay—come to stay with its unlimited possibilities for good or for evil. And "The Blue Bird" is the sort of picture that cannot fail to do unlimited good. It will be a delight to children, but only the grown-ups can read their lives into the search for Happiness. It will be a dream, a fairy-tale come true, to your boy or girl; but to you it will be the meaning of life, told poetically, but none the less truly.

"The Blue Bird" is a milestone in the production of motion pictures. We hope for more pictures of the same sort.

A Mammoth Dramatic Spectacle of Happiness that will put new courage into American Hearts.

TRADITION whispers that in the sky is a bird, blue as the sky itself, which brings to its finders Happiness. But everyone cannot see it; for mortal eyes are prone to be blinded by the glitter of wealth, fame and position and deceived by the mocking Will-o'-the-Wisp of empty honors. But for the fortunate ones who seek with open eyes and hearts with the artlessness, simplicity and faith, which are richest in childhood, there is an undying promise and to them the Blue Bird lives and carols, a rejoicing symbol of Happiness and Contentment unto the end.

A Few of the Things in "The Blue Bird"

The Soul of Fire.	The Peerless Joy of Maternal Love.
The Soul of Water.	The Kingdom of the Future.
The Soul of Milk.	Beautiful Memory Land.
The Soul of Sugar.	Fit Laughter, who is irresistible.
The Soul of Light.	The Rich Children's Christmas Party.
The Soul of Bread.	The Dance of the Stars and of the Perfumes in the Garden of Dawn.
The Palace of Berylone.	The Transformation of the Home of the Happy Dead.
The Palace of Night.	The Awful Inspiring Banquet Hall of the Luxuries.
The Grotto of the Ghosts.	The Luxury of Drinking When You are not Thirsty and Eating when you are not Hungry.
The Cave of the Sickneses.	The Cave of Sleep.
The it of the Terrible Wars.	The Luxury of Sleeping More Than Necessary.
The Million Blue Birds.	The Happiness of Loving One's Parents.
The Forest of Night.	Immense Halls of the Azure Palace, the Home of the Unborn Children.
The Graveyard of the Happy Dead.	Father Time, Who Opens the Gates for the Children to be Born.
They Joy of Thinking.	The Great Galley Loaded with Children.
The Joy of Forgettingness.	The Myriad of Mothers Meeting the Ship as it Sails Out of the Sunrise.
The Palace of Happiness.
The Cave of Seres.
The Luxury of Being Rich.
The Luxury of Satisfied Vanity.
The Cathedral of Happiness.
The Happiness of Being Well.
The Happiness of Pure Air.
The Happiness of the Blue Sky.
The Happiness of the Forest.
The Happiness of Sunny Hours.
The Happiness of Spring.
The Happiness of the Rain.
The Happiness of Innocent Thoughts.
The Destruction of the Banquet Hall.
They Joy of Being Good.
They Joy of Being Just.

The management of the Beverly wishes to advise the public that we went to the trouble and expense to personally view this production. We consider it the finest thing ever done in photoplay work. The story is so sweet and wholesome that it is irresistible. The photography so magnificent that it enralls. The whole thing has such a tendency to point to higher and better things that it should be seen by every man, woman and child in the entire world. Civilization will be the better for the making of this story in such vivid form. It's an inspiration, as well as a good, wholesome entertainment.

HOLSTEIN-FRIESIAN COW MAKES RECORD

Animal Owned by Orrie Steels Sets High Mark for Seven-Day Period. Average of 73 4-7 Pounds Milk Per Day.

A total of 22.26 pounds of butter and 515.7 pounds of milk in seven days, or an average of 73 4-7 pounds of 3.45 milk per day, is the remarkable record of the Holstein-Friesian cow, "Helen Johanna De Kol, the Second," which is owned by Orrie Steels. This record, though surprising, is official. It was computed by R. D. Knott, official tester, and has just been announced.

This cow milked up to two weeks before calving. Three daughters of Helen Johanna De Kol the Second remain in the herd owned by Orrie Steels.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, June 14.—June 28th is set aside as pledge day for war savings stamps and at a meeting held last evening a committee consisting of members who had the Liberty Loan drive in hand was appointed to take charge of the thrift stamp sale and pledges. In addition to this committee several new workers were added. Our quota for this post office district is $55,000 and of this amount about $25,000 has already been raised. All places of business in the city have the stamps on sale and extra effort will be made to sell them. An effort will be made to secure pledges for the stamps to fill the quota allotted to the city, on June 28th. Every one is urged to see some one on the committee and make arrangements to secure stamps, thus lessening the committee's work. Let every one do his duty.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl who has been reared in a city, but my means are limited have never had the opportunity to dine at hotels. Recently I have made the acquaintance of a young lieutenant, who has asked me to take dinner with him at a large hotel. Please give me the main rules of hotel etiquette, as to dress, ordering of meals, etc.

A FRIEND.
If you wear that suit, wear that hat, wear that dress, wear that coat it will be in just as good taste. Really you have no reason to worry about your clothes, because if the young man had not been satisfied with your appearance he would not have invited you to take dinner with him.

When entering the dining room you should follow the lead of the waiter, and your escort should follow you. Do not make the little dinner party an ordeal because you are too conscious of your actions. Just be natural and you will not do anything wrong.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a boy for some time and he is now a soldier and will leave in a few days. I want to know how much I love him. Did I do right in telling him how much I loved him?

My Dear Niece:
Men can't be conveyed by letter. It is a fact that sometimes regret. This is not in the least of the time, so be easy and attentive. I have misgivings about that "Italian." He is too suave to be sincere, too observant for a casual tourist, has the air of a man who has been in the world a long time. He is too much when I met her on my way to the office. He was introduced to her at one of the clubs and as he claimed to be a rather forthright fellow, I thought I would call on him to the hall with her and the captain.

"I'm not crazy about him," she boasted frankly, "but he seems disposed to be friendly. I'm not interested in our war preparations."

"Be careful what you tell strangers," I warned.
"You better," said Regina, with a look of defiance. "I don't know anything worth telling, and wouldn't tell it if I did. The Italian was topsy-turvy and I needed a tail for the captain's kite. Anyway, so I just killed two birds with one stone."

"And hit Ronald in the process?"
Regina made a wry face and passed on. "I came here to write to you. Going back to the hall, Regina, became brought the 'Italian' as a tail for her hero's kite, and me to the kite and left Willie and me in charge of the tail for no sooner had she spoken to her friends than she returned with her escorts and delivered the 'Italian' to us much as she might have given us a package to hold."

"You introduced him," she whispered to Willie. "I want to be free to show off. What's the use of being with the hero of the evening if you can't enjoy the triumph?" And off she glided with the big, boyish captain, waving her hand at us as she went.

"What an extraordinary charming girl," murmured the "Italian," and what a flaming little patriot. "I can't know America better so soon. She is a relative of yours, yes?"

"My friend," I corrected, "and she has been my patient ever since her birth, at which ceremony I assisted."

"The penciled eyebrows of the 'Italian' rose ever so slightly toward his back, reddish nonpareil. "Extraordinary," he murmured. There was enough of everything to reduce the weight to normal. If Mr. H. did not eat too much, he would be between giving way so early in life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
More Child Sports a "Wise Woman."
My son, just seventeen, gets an angry red nose whenever he is out in the cold or even when he goes where it is cold after being in a warm place. Of course he doesn't drink, but it would look that way. Neither does he use tobacco, it worries him and he is sensitive to the fumes of friends. Can anything be done for it? (M. C.)

ANSWER—He is at the age when hypertrophic rhinitis often produces trouble, and an examination of the nasal cavity by a physician who does nose and throat work may be advisable.

Iodine and Boric Acid for Cankers.
Please advise me what can be done for the relief of cankers, from which I frequently suffer. (Mrs. T. M.)

ANSWER—Touch each sore once a day with a solution of iodine or colloid wrapped about a toothpick. Use as a mouth wash before and after eating some saturated solution of boric acid. Boiled water will take up while warm.

WHY IS IT that women with flat feet are so fond of floundering about town.

in flat-soled tennis shoes!

Bargains in most everything are listed in the classified columns.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

Sincere enthusiasm over the interests of others is very commendable, but when it becomes gushiness it speaks of insincerity.
M. E. J. In registering at a hotel an unmarried woman signs herself "Miss Ethel Jones." A married woman signs her husband's initials as "Mrs. A. B. Thorne." Virginia B. Since you will be writing notes to only your intimate friends announcing your engagement, it is difficult for that reason to give any set wording in writing them. Make the note short and express your desire to share the news of your happiness with whom you are addressing.

Breads.
Cornbread—To one pint rich cream (sweat or sour) whipped to a stiff froth add one level teaspoon salt, one level teaspoon soda, one level teaspoon sugar. Stir in one cup of cornmeal and bake. This will serve four people.

Graham Bread—Three cups graham flour, one and one-half cups white flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda dissolved in one tablespoon boiling water, one cup molasses, one and three-quarter cups milk. Mix well and sift dry ingredients. Add molasses, fat and dry ingredients and add alternately milk and dry ingredients. Add soda, dissolved in boiling water, last. Bake in two breadpans in moderate oven forty-five minutes. Before baking add one-half cup each of dates, raisins and added.

Brown Bread (from above menu).—One and three-quarter cups wheat and white flour, half cup each of barley flour, half heaping teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups sour milk (best when thick), one-quarter cup molasses, one good teaspoon soda, half cup raisins, if liked; rounded teaspoon vegetable fat melted, sift dry ingredients together, add molasses, fat and raisins, if used. Put into a greased bread pan and bake about one and a quarter hours in a moderate oven. Out and Corn Bread—Rolled oats (ground), two cups, corn flour, two-third cup, milk three-quarter cup, corn syrup four tablespoons, melted fat two teaspoons, eggs two. Mix melted fat, liquid, sugar and eggs. Add the well mixed dry ingredients. Bake as a loaf in a moderately hot oven for one hour or longer. Nuts or raisins may be added if desired.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.
To Keep Mold From Gathering On Canned Fruit or Preserves—Cut a piece of letter paper to fit the top of jar or can and wet good in alcohol or brandy, and no mold will gather. Or put paraffin on jellies and it never molds.

Bread Crumbs—Save small pieces and crusts of bread, put them in oven and let dry, then roll them with rolling pin and put through the sieve. They are nice for frying veal or pork chops, for soups or stews. Put in an open jar, they keep for a long time. Don't cover or they will be musty.

Celery and Parsley—Save all celery and parsley leaves; dry them in the oven, mash up and put through the sieve. Use for soups or stews. Keep in a small jar.

To Wash Hair Switch—Don't spoil your switch by washing it in soap and water. Wash in the following manner: Dip switch up and down in gasoline until all dirt is out, then dip it up and down in hot water and, without wringing, hang out in the air to dry.

This operation takes but a few minutes and you will find your switch as fluffy and new as the day you bought it.

Cow Testing Association.
Marquette, Wis.—Fifty members have been secured here for a third cow testing association in Marquette county. It will operate in the vicinity of Coleman, Beaver and Pound. Jens Jensen of Atholstone, graduate of the Marquette County School of Agriculture, has already started the testing.

Miss Marion L. Davies.

Miss Marion L. Davies, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is one of the first women to be appointed examiner under the Federal Trade Commission. She is doing research work in the Congressional library investigating facts about the manufacture of various articles. She has had two years experience in a secretarial position with the commission before that she was a reporter.

THE WAY TO A CHILD'S HEART.

The way to a child's heart is through his imagination.
You may lavish much time and money upon a child and yet you will not get half so near to his heart as some pecuniary grown-up friend who has never given him anything more valuable than a robin's egg, but has been able to touch his imagination. That April Vacation show in the Altus. Some weeks ago I was visiting some relatives whose little boy was going to a show in his friends' attic. I wasn't able to go to that show but I heard all about it afterward from his friends' mother. It was much like the shows you and I used to give in our attics in April vacations (April vacations seemed dedicated to that sort of thing, didn't they?) because they came at an awkward time, mid-way between the infinite possibilities of winter and summer) except that instead of the old time stereoscopic there were moving pictures. Besides these, one of the boys did some tricks out of a trick box and a grown-up sister obliged with patriotic songs.

The same sister also wrote out "Ladies Please Remove Your Hats" and had the boys throw it on the screen. Then she and her mother went their separate ways, leaving the little boy and I to our own devices. What the Little Boy Remembered. Well, the other day I saw the little boy and asked him how his show came off. "All right," he said, and then, his face lighting up with a memory. "Did you know we had a sign? 'Ladies Please Remove Your Hats' just like they do at the regular shows, and the ladies had to take their hats off. They were so surprised!" You see it was not the moving pictures, not the box of tricks, not the receipts that came first to his mind, but just that little touch of imagination, that clever bit of let's pretend. "Be Uncle Albert Again." In another family of youngsters the most beloved uncle is an Uncle John who is always making up "let's pretend" games for the children. One day he said he wasn't Uncle John at all but another Uncle who had been lost at sea and had come back—Uncle Albert. In this character he told them about his travels and asked them all about Uncle John. It seems to be an absurd proceeding, to a grown-up but you can't imagine how it tickled those children. A month later their greeting to him was "Do you remember when you were Uncle Albert? Be Uncle Albert again."

Someone has said that it does not seem possible that cats are really kittens grown up. They seem to have such totally different characteristics, that it seems as if they must belong to some other species. One might feel the same about grown-ups, such as the child who will keep something of the child in their hearts.

VENISON FOR FRIENDS.
PROVES VERY COSTLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, June 14.—Joseph Hoof, a Chicago man who runs a summer resort near Cable, will probably feed his guests pork and beans hereafter. According to information received at the conservation commission, Hoof was entertaining some Chicago sports who desired a meal of venison. Hoof got the venison, but the game warden got Hoof. He was taken before Judge Henderson charged with violation of the law and fined $30.50. The forty pounds of venison cost at the rate of $2.25 a pound and then taken from him. After paying the fine Hoof begged the game warden for the venison to entertain his friends. He was told pork and beans would be more appetizing.

"Did you dear? You must have had a lovely time," said Theodore. "Perfectly wonderful! I hated to go away. He was beating his wife," said Egbert, coolly.
"Beating his wife? Didn't you stop him?"
"Stop him? What for? He was enjoying it—so was I."
At this point Theodore reached for her smelling salts. "You hissed, chertily. And you—how could you enjoy such a scene?"
"I don't know, but I did. She despised it, too, the stupid thing. He stopped beating her when he saw me, but I said 'Oh, go ahead; don't mind me!'"
"Oh, you heartless wretch! And to think I'm married to such a monster! You'll be beating me, next!" she sobbed, in uncontrollable spasms of passion.
"I certainly will if you play cards with me," said Egbert, happily.

"C-cards?"
"Yes, Jimson was playing cards with his wife, and he beat her!"
"Oh, Egbert!" And Theodore crumpled into his arms.
(The end.)

COMMISSION NAMES HER AS EXAMINER

Miss Marion L. Davies, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is one of the first women to be appointed examiner under the Federal Trade Commission. She is doing research work in the Congressional library investigating facts about the manufacture of various articles. The Soldier-Christian

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.—II Timothy 2:4.

This is not a consideration of the Christian as a soldier fighting for his country, but of the Christian considered from a military standpoint. The figure of the soldier is used quite freely in the Bible in speaking of the Christian, and we are justified in applying that figure to the modern Christian. There are several things in a soldier's experience today that belong to the Christian and to these we will give attention.

The Christian's Enlistment and Oath of Loyalty.

Every soldier of his country must take an oath of allegiance to the government and the inclusiveness of this oath is very great. The Christian who will not make a pledge to his Lord, ordinarily in a public way, lacks the first visible testimony that he is a soldier of the Lord. Christian profession is most important, and the exceptions to the rule but prove its importance.

The Christian's Equipment for Service.

The Christian must have his equipment for service as the government of any country must equip its soldiers, in which case clothing, food, shelter, arms, ammunition and other things are absolutely necessary. In the sixth chapter of the Epistle to the Ephesians this equipment of the soldier-Christian is quite fully given. That equipment is spiritual of course, but it will be noticed that it is both defensive and offensive. The enemy of the Christian often attacks, and the Christian must defend himself. The Christian must not make it a rule of his life to never to await the attack of the enemy, but must attack as well. For attack, only one weapon is named, and that is the sword of the spirit of the word of God. Unlike human wars, the spiritual warfare has known no change through the ages. The Bible today is the best weapon and there are no Zephelins nor other aircraft, nor submarines, nor mines, nor anything else that makes it obsolete. It is well to note that there is only the offensive weapon. May have forgotten this: the Bible has been abandoned and the enemy has pressed the post of righteousness back. Courage, knowledge, faith and all other equipment will be furnished if the Bible is used faithfully. The weapon of offense needs emphasis.

The Christian's Training.

The Christian does too much unorganized fighting. His warfare is too largely a guerrilla warfare. In connection with the national army of the United States the training is most intensive, the results of which are astonishing to all beholding it. There are provisions for training the Christian. The old Methodist class-meeting, now showing innocuous desuetude, was a splendid training school in the days gone by. Sunday schools, Y. M. C. A.'s, young people's societies, etc., give fair training opportunity. For officers' training there are many theological seminaries, and a few of them turn out Napoleons and Grants and Pershings, but many of them are turning out officers with a very indistinct theory of real spiritual warfare and with very little knowledge of it practically. The old scene great Bible schools, where the training is intensive, largely so because the calls for workers must be promptly met and the time is short.

The Soldier-Christian and Hardship.

"Endure hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ," is what Paul said to the recruit Timothy. Whatever may be done by the government or the people of the various countries for the comfort of men at the battle front, ultimately there is hardship.

The Soldier-Christian Must Fight.

"Fight the good fight of faith" is the Scripture exhortation and there is an escaping that responsibility. To fight is to oppose an enemy, to injure or destroy him, to gain the victory over him by contention. The old hymn gives the right idea:

Fight on my soul till death
Shall bring thee to thy God;
He'll take thee at thy parting breath
Up to his blessed abode.

In Ephesians 6:10 the Christian is told that he fights against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Today there is an enemy in the form of false religious teaching that he must fight. The Christian must contend for the faith once for all delivered to the saints. The Christian's worst enemies are those within his own bosom—his pride, unbelief, indifference, unholiness, evil heart, all active enemies every moment.

The bright ray of cheer that comes to the soldier-Christian is that ultimate victory is assured. He will overcome by the blood of the lamb. His crown will be given him by the righteous Judge in that day.

Farmers Respond to Call.

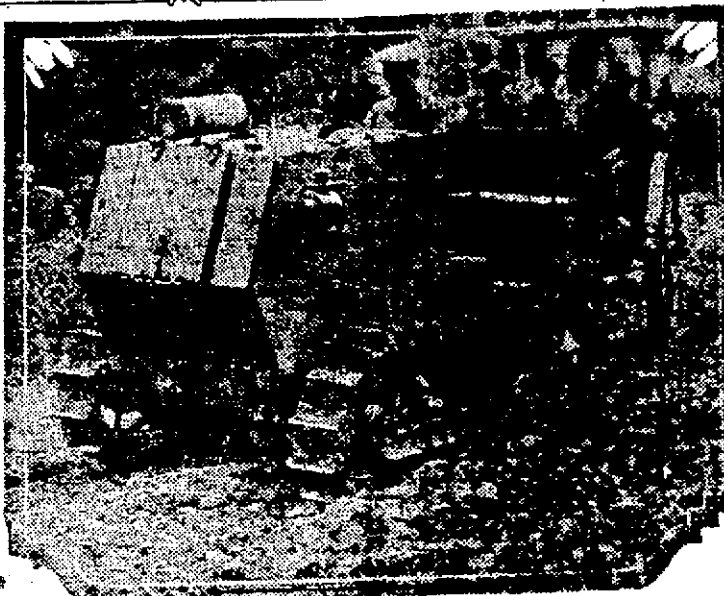

Appleton, Wis.—The farmers of Outagamie county responded nobly to the appeal of the government to raise more wheat. The acreage of spring wheat in this county was increased from 1,150 acres in 1917 to 5,500 in 1918, an increase of 380 per cent. Outagamie made a greater percentage increase than any other county in the state that put 1000 or more acres in wheat.

The upper picture shows one of these tractors, during a test, hauling a heavy howitzer. Below is a view of the tractor.

Evansville News

Evansville, June 14.—Yesterday about the noon hour, a team of horses belonging to Matthew Farrell, that were tied near the Commercial House, became frightened at the noon post-station, broke loose, and made a mad dash up Main street. The street was rapidly filling with people who were hurrying home from the noon hour. Near the Review office C. C. Hoague, who resides near Gibbs Lake, was seated in the wagon which he had just driven into town bringing sacks of potatoes. He sat conversing with W. M. Tolles, who stood on the edge of the sidewalk. Both gentlemen had their backs to the infuriated team, and when the mad rush toward them, and neither saw or heard the runaway horses. John Stair, who saw their predicament, shouted to them, but there was no time for Mr. Hoague to get his horses and wagon out of the way. Mr. Tolles must have jumped back a step or two, for the next instant one of the horses had fallen where he had stood but a second before. The horses, crazed by fright, struck the rear end of Mr. Hoague's wagon, the tongue ripping through it, knocking down the horses and fastening them, one on each side of the wagon. Mr. Hoague was thrown backward from the seat and pinned beneath the neck-yoke. The force of the impact so frightened Mr. Hoague's horses that they jumped forward, breaking their neck-yoke, and they, too, ran frantically up the street, but were caught before they had gone very far. Willing hands liberated Mr. Hoague and got the first team to their feet. The injured man was taken to Dr. Colton's office where he was found that his shoulder, arm and one side seemed badly bruised. It is hoped that no internal injuries were sustained. He was later removed to his home where he remained until he could be taken to his own home.

Personals.—Tuesday evening the following party journeyed to the banks of Rock river where a delicious picnic supper was enjoyed. The jolly crowd consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphree, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, Mrs. Nora Haines, the Misses Belle Bolen, Hattie Ostrud, Laura Hill, Lillian Gibbs, Nellie Hoffman and Mr. Leonard Pinn.

After supper they went on to Jansville to watch the pavement dance given for the soldiers.

Captain and Mrs. Buchwalter arrived in the city yesterday and will spend some time with their sister, Miss Elvora Andrews.

Dr. George Spehner came down from Madison last evening for a short stay.

Mrs. Flora Ellis has gone to Superior for a visit with relatives.

The Misses Dorothy Stair and Jessie Napes arrived home from Stevens Point normal to spend their summer vacation.

Victor Miller of the Great Lakes naval station is home for a short furlough.

Miss T. Green and daughters Myrtle and Marie are visiting at the home of Frank Green in Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Nav Gillman went to Milwaukee yesterday to attend the commencement exercises of their daughter, Miss Bernadine Normal.

Mrs. Claude Harrison, Mrs. Hazel Larson and Mrs. Etel Weaver have recently erected a monument to the memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Wolcott of Magnolia.

Max and Sam Phillips came down from Madison yesterday.

Cal Eroughton is in the northern part of the state on a business trip. The following people went to Brown head yesterday to attend the O. E. S. convention: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Auschnitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harte, Mesdames Arthur Devine, Erwin Shaw, Christina Prunk, Walter Spradler, Chas. Webb, Hattie Boyd, A. E. Green, Wood, J. P. Waddell, Lyle Hoffster, R. M. Carson, and the Misses Isabelle Greenwood and Maude Combs.

Miss Edith Schuster of Madison is the guest at the home of her brother, Dr. Schuster.

Melvin, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Lee, fell from a second story window Wednesday, breaking his right leg just below the hip. The little lad is resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Mrs. Della Ballard and Miss Cora Harris leave for Ashland tomorrow to attend a W. R. C. convention.

Leslie McCoy, who has been visiting relatives here, will return to New York Saturday.

The Evansville military band will give the first of a series of band concerts in the city hall park, Friday evening, June 21. Last evening six of our band boys—Messrs. George and Ben Bray, Ezra Ghaden, Ben Ely, Elmer Shergar and Burr Tolles—"sat in" with the Bowler City band at their concert, so a number of members of that band will return the compliment next week at the band concert here. Miss Mary Ludden is home from her school at Plymouth to spend her summer vacation.

Mrs. Burr Tolles, phone 344 private phone, represents the Gazette in Evansville. Franklin Clifford has charge of the carrier routes. Orders for subscriptions, and service complaints should be phoned him.

Wealth of Forestry.—The coast forests of southern and southeastern Alaska are included in the national forests of Tongass and Chugach, which comprise over ninety six million acres, a large proportion of which is covered with trees. Of these, Sitka spruce averages about 25 per cent and western hemlock about 75 per cent. The spruce are occasionally six feet in diameter and 150 feet tall. The interior forests are practically all found in the drainage basins of the Yukon and Kuskokwim rivers, and it is estimated that there are forty million acres bearing trees large enough for cordwood and logs.

All Harmonious.—"So you are getting good results from juries of ladies?" "Yes," said the judge; "they don't want us men to have a chance to say they couldn't agree."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HUN AERO BOMBS TEN FEET LONG

By some freak of fortune this giant aero bomb dropped into the city of Jansville from a German airplane failed to explode. It is shown here standing nose down as it fell, dwarfing the rather tall French officer standing beside it. The odd shaped arrangement at the tail is the strait which keeps the bomb straight as it falls.

THUS FAR AND NO FARTHER

Men of Science Baffled in Endeavors to Find the Real Root of All Languages.

The oldest languages known at the present time are the Sumerian, Babylonian (or Accadian) and the Egyptian. The earliest known inscriptions belong to about the fifth millennium B. C., but it is reasonable to assume that these were antedated by many different languages which had a great antiquity. The script of the Sumerian, Babylonian (or Accadian) and Assyrian was the cuneiform. Chaldean, the language used generally as the diplomatic language about the time of Belshazzar, is what we now know as the Aramaic language. Archaeology has thrown no light on the subject of the confusion of tongues. Abraham very probably spoke the Aramaic, the language of Aram. In Canaan his descendants apparently used the language of the land, which was that of the Ammonites. This is what we now know as Hebrew. It would seem that the Israelites retained while in Egypt the language familiar to them, but archaeology has thrown no light upon the subject. Nothing has been discovered which can be determined as antediluvian. Babylonian legends mention several cities as existing before the flood, and Arabic tradition says Haraan was the first city that was rebuilt after the deluge, but archaeology has offered no certain data as yet on the subject.

ONLY BIT OF RUINED WALL

All That Remains of Castle That Was the Birthplace of Scotland's Hero, Robert Bruce.

Turnberry castle, on the coast of Ayrshire, Scotland, now but a bit of ruined wall near the lighthouse, was the birthplace and early home of Robert Bruce whose father and mother "combined in themselves the earldoms of Annandale and Carrick or royal lineage—the titles still being retained by the present royal family of the United Kingdom."

In ancient times this old castle was large and strong. In the early part of Bruce's career Turnberry was held by an English force. Bruce through a mistaken signal, came to take the old familiar place, though his men were many too few for the task. Disdaining to give it up, however, he kept an irregular war, sometimes being driven to refuge in the mountains or even in the wilds of a distant loch.

At length he gathered together enough men to take Turnberry castle, which act was the beginning of his triumphant progress through Ayrshire and Strathclyde, which finally ended with Bannockburn's tremendous victory.

It is hard to realize the oldtime importance of Turnberry, now that the visitor must search long before he can come across its few battered remains.

WHITE SOX NEED HELP TO STAY IN BIG RACE

New York, June 14.—The White Sox need strengthening if they are to win another pennant without a tremendous lot of hard ball playing and a reasonable amount of luck. The loss of Joe Jackson has been practically a death blow to the chances of the city by Lake Michigan.

The loss, in rapid succession recently, of three games in which the Sox could get only within one run of victory, tells the story. With the slugging of Jackson to back up the efforts of Eddie Collins, Clayton Kopp, Buck Weaver and Chick Gandil, these games might have been placed in the Chicago bag, for it was pretty hard in the old days to beat the champions out of a game which required a single out at a critical moment. It might be said that it couldn't be done. One secret of the Sox's success a year ago was the ability to get runs by sacrifice and then hitting. The hit and run men, with a man on second base, was one of Rowland's best plays, and the Sox were adept at getting their runs in this manner.

When Jackson left the team, was ripe for Rowland and Comiskey to set their nets for his successor. John Collins, who is not a member of the team, is the son of the famous singer, while Nemo Leibold is a little weak against post-side fingers. Danny Murphy has been given what he needs assistance.

Bobbi Roth and Hugh High have both been placed on the suspended list by the American League. The absence of these men would be an improvement on John Collins. The White Sox need help. Clutching Rowland will make a big mistake if he declines to realize it much longer.

FOUR NATIONAL LEAGUE MANAGERS NEWCOMERS

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS)
New York, June 14.—The task of building up the western clubs of the National League has with four new managers.

None of these pilots has as yet served two years as a manager. Mitchell and Mathewson are leaving their second seasons, while Bezdek and Hendricks are in the midst of their first full pennant races as pilots. The undisciplined monologues behind the Chicago Cubs put Fred Mitchell in a commanding place when he first took the reins of the Chicago club. But during his first season, as successor to a lot of experimenting, so that this season afforded him his first real chance.

Christie Mathewson's success with the Cincinnati Reds last year was phenomenal. He lifted the team out of the basement class and made it a real factor in the 1917 race. It is a factor again this year, and the Sox are expected to live with Matty Adams, as he is the first Cincinnati manager who has been given free hand to do as he pleased.

Hugh Hendricks took hold of the pitcher's reign at Pittsburgh late last season, succeeding Jimmy Callahan. He put new spirit into the team and made them an impression that he was signed for the 1918 season. So far, he has made good with a win, and Pittsburgh fans are enthusiastic.

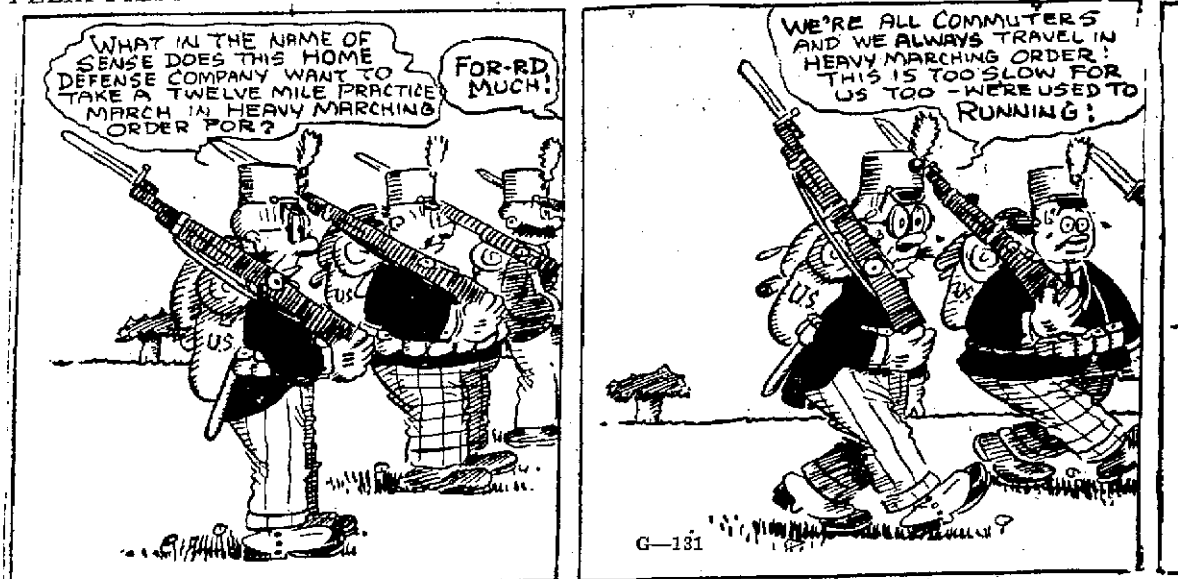

Jack Hendricks, highly successful in the minor leagues, inherited what looked like a strong ball club from Eddie Hendricks, but the Cardinals so far have failed to make much of an impression. However, Hendricks has proved he had time to get acclimated, and it must be remembered that the Cardinals have been hit many a hard blow by the draft and by enlistments.

BUSHERS MAKE GOOD IN MANAGER'S JOBS

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS)
New York, June 14.—Two bush leaguers have made good as managers of big league baseball clubs within the last few years, and another one is quite likely to win his spurs before the present season has become history.

Clarence Rowland was accepted a long time ago as a man of considerable baseball brains, and proved it to everybody's satisfaction when he met and defeated John McGraw in the last world's series.

And now we come down to Hugo Bezdek, and not so very far down St. Louis for Bezdek, the joke of Pittsburgh's fans a year ago, has placed in the National League race a baseball team that has caused no end of trouble for the league, and has had aspirations to become the league's leader.

When it was announced by Barney Dreyfuss that Hugo Bezdek had been signed to succeed Jimmy Callahan as manager of the Pirates, the baseball world pinched itself a couple of times and then tried to turn over. Bezdek's appointment was even more astonishing than was the announcement by Charles A. Coniskey that he had signed Clarence Rowland, for Bezdek never had been a professional baseball leader, nor had he ever played professional baseball. He was simply a handler of athletes, with more than ordinary knowledge of conditioning his men.

Jack Hendricks is sitting tight and working hard. He knows he has a better team than the averages indicate and that, with fair luck he will have his men in the race before long.

When Jackson left the team, was ripe for Rowland and Comiskey to set their nets for his successor. John Collins, who is not a member of the team, is the son of the famous singer, while Nemo Leibold is a little weak against post-side fingers. Danny Murphy has been given what he needs assistance.

Cultivated Rubber.

British Malaya is now firmly established as the leading country in the production of cultivated rubber, and the industry has added very substantially to the prosperity of the Malay peninsula during the last nine or ten years.

There was a good deal said about how John McGraw of the Giants put it over George Stallings of the Braves when he traded Buck Herzog for Jess Barnes and Larry Doyle. Well, here's how it turned out: Barnes has gone into the army and Doyle is in a hospital. Herzog is having a new lease of life with the Braves and helping them to get in the running, much to the surprise of about everybody interested in baseball.

Bert Nichoff will go down in the records as the unluckiest baseball player of the season. He got a bad start with the Cardinals and was sold to the Giants. In his first game with them he smashed a finger and was out several days. Back a few days he broke a leg in a game with the Athletics. If he gets to play any more ball this year he will be lucky.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, June 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nyhus of Monticello spent several days the early part of the week visiting with friends here.

F. F. Nulty, who spent several weeks at Milwaukee in a hospital, where he underwent an operation, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return, and came to Orfordville on Saturday evening, having made the journey on a couch. He is now convalescing at the home of his son-in-law, James Taylor, of the town of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grindley of Minnesota are visiting with relatives here. Mrs. Grindley, who will be remembered as Lettie Synstegard, has not seen her home town for seventeen years.

Word was received on Thursday that Milvin Nelson has been appointed as rural mail carrier on the route from the local office. He will assume the duties of the position about the first of July.

Neva Peterson, who has spent the past two years with her sister at Spokane, Wash., returned to her home in the village the early part of the week. Her name appeared among those of the graduating class in the high school of the western city.

Boyd Gansell, who has been working for several months at Beloit, returned home about a week ago suffering from throat trouble which later developed into diphtheria. The home has been quarantined and every precaution has been taken to prevent a spread of the malady.

Ostriches Once of Immense Size. That ostriches once grew 15 feet in height is shown by remains found in the island of Madagascar.

Camouflage Clothing

Camouflage clothing looks like what it is not. It is an imitation of something that is real. It is "store window clothing"—fairly good for display purposes, but not built to stand the rigid test of wear.

It is sometimes hard to distinguish between artfully camouflaged clothing, made from cotton adulterated fabrics, and real clothing made of all wool. There is a way of knowing.

The Hart Schaffner & Marx label in your clothes is a guarantee of all wool fabrics. You want this kind of clothes because they are real economy—they wear longer and hold their shape and color-newness.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes offer a genuine investment opportunity, backed by the Honor Pledge of The T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co.—that is your guarantee of better values, better merchandise and better service.

This Spring, practice same clothes economy.

New Spring models in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes—$25.00, $27.50, $30, $35.00.

True Friends Beyond Price.

The most blessed reality in human life is a friend who understands and can companion your heart. Don't allow yourself to wear your spirit out alone with anxiety or grief. "The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel." A true friend will save your soul alive.

Ancient Montessori Methods.

Herodes, to overcome the extraordinary dullness of his son Atticus, educated along with him 24 little slaves of his own age. He gave each the name of the letter of the Greek alphabet. His son, in order to play with them, had to learn the alphabet to call their names.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
 Notice is hereby given that at a Regular term of the County Court to be held at the Court House in Janesville, Wis., on November 5th, 1918, at nine o'clock A. M., all claims against the estate of J. E. Janesville, who died, will be examined and adjusted.

All claims must be presented for allowance to said court on or before
 October 13, 1918, or be barred.
 Dated June 12, 1918.

By the Court,
 CHARLES L. FIFIELD,
 County Judge.

Arthur M. Fisher,
 Attorney for Administrator.

ORDINANCE NO. 42.

An Ordinance to amend an ordinance numbered 35, as amended, as No. 2, and entitled: "An ordinance to preserve peace and good order and to restrain and prevent vice and immorality by regulating the conditions under the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be amended by adding thereto new sections to be known as Sections 2c and 4b."

Section 2c.—No person, firm or corporation holding a license from the City of Janesville for the vending or dealing in strong, spirituous, malt, wine or intoxicating liquors, shall have or keep within the room or place where such liquors are kept and sold, or on the premises covered by such license, any piano, player-piano, music-box, gramophone, Victrola, talking machine, or any other kind of form of musical instrument; and no such person, firm or corporation shall provide or permit within such room or place where such liquors are kept or sold, or on the premises covered by such license, any music, singing, dancing, vaudeville performance, or any other kind of form of entertainment.

The penalty for the violation of this section shall be the same as that provided by Section three (3) of the original ordinance above referred to.

Section 4b.—This ordinance shall be in force and take effect from and after July 1st, 1918, and shall be published for ten consecutive days in the interior before said date.
 Passed June 12, 1918.

Approved,
 C. L. VALENTINE,
 Mayor.

JAMES R. WORTHINGTON,
 City Clerk.

Polishing Coral.

Although Venice is a center for tourist trade in coral and shell cameos, coral itself is neither gathered nor worked there. The manufacture is confined to Torre del Greco. Polishing coral in quantities is an interesting feature of the work. It is placed in a small bag of strong, raw linen together with crushed pumice stone, and the bag is shaken in a special tube with a hole for drainage under a small column of water. When the coral is well pumiced, it is washed and passed into a clean bag. Instead of the pumice stone so called "pulimento" (red or white) is used, and the former operation is repeated, first without water, then with a little and finally with much water, when the coral has become brilliant.
 What the "pulimento"

DIPLOMAS TO RURAL SCHOOL GRADUATES TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Graduation Exercises Will Be Held in High School Building in Afternoon. — Contest in Morning.

Preparations are now being made for the annual county contest and graduation exercises of the eighth grades of the rural schools to be held Tuesday afternoon in the high school building. The usual contests in spelling, arithmetic and penmanship will be held in the morning, beginning at ten o'clock. This contest is open only to winners of the township contests recently held in this county. The winner of the county contest next Tuesday will be given a trip to the State Fair at Milwaukee and takes part in a contest there.

In the afternoon after a program which begins at one o'clock, the graduates of the rural schools will be presented with diplomas by Supt. O. D. Antisell. The program arranged for the afternoon will be most instructive, as well as of entertainment value. The day's program will be as follows:

Contest in Spelling, Arithmetic and Writing at 10:30 a. m. — Winners of the township contests in the county contest in spelling, arithmetic and penmanship. A free trip to the State Fair at Milwaukee and takes part in a contest there.

1:15 p. m. — Graduates march in parade. Address by Supt. O. D. Antisell. Misses Anna, Geneva and Zella, Piano and Violin.

Why Attend High School? Superintendent H. H. Faust.

Why Gardens? Mrs. Sylvia Colony. Piano Selection—Miss Cullen. Address: State Inspector W. E. Larson.

Musical Selection—Misses Bennett. Announcement of prize winner and presenting diplomas—Supt. O. D. Antisell.

JANESVILLE SOLDIERS WRITE FROM FRANCE

Robert Childers and Floyd Mable, both Janesville Young Men, write interesting letters from "Over There."

Robert Childers, a Janesville boy, who entered the army from Chicago, has arrived safely in France and has written a very interesting letter to his country. In his letter, Private Childers tells of the first experiences of a soldier when he arrives "Over There."

Floyd Mable, another Janesville boy, has written from France, telling of conditions and mentioning the great amount of rain that they are experiencing in that country. The letters follow:

Somewhere in France, May 28th, 1918.

Dear Folks: I haven't received any letters from you yet this week but hope to have one in the near future. I have been drifting the same as usual. We were sent to a new camp and now we are in a new one. We have our gas masks. They are not the pleasantest things to wear, but they are the only protection against gas.

It has been raining some as usual. Last night we had a terrible thunder shower. I often sit and wonder what the people back in the United States are doing. Well, and tell me the news because you don't know how it interests me. I have two automatic rifles in my squad that will fire 180 shots with ordinary handling and 120 shots with the gas mask on. I am an assistant platoon sergeant. Well, mother, let me hear from you real soon.

With love to all, FLOYD.

May 28, 1918.

Dearest Mother and Sister: I am writing from "Somewhere in France." We had a fine trip and it was calm on the water, enjoyed every minute. We landed in a beautiful bay and took a few minutes to camp, among all the most scenery you can imagine. We are not permanent here so are in our pup tents and it is a little change from our home camp, but like it. I and a few others are able to eat three times a day, and still want more. We are in a very old and interesting part of France. Nothing like the old days, but with narrow streets and public wash houses. Not many stores and very few people in sight. Most everything here is fighting in some way.

People wear wooden shoes and the women work as hard as the men. Their farms are not large like our own, but platted out with walls around them and full of all the prettiest of fields.

We have lots of fun trying to talk to the people, most most of them don't understand any English and we just as well off a time we may learn a little of it, but it is a circus trying. We miss the shows we went to see in the south and hope if we move it will have a Y. M. C. A. at least to go to.

Some of our boys are sick so we may be here a week or two for quarantine. Then move further toward the front. It will be a strange sight I imagine from the peaceful scenes we are near. But then each new scene is interesting for us, and the old ones forgotten.

Today at church services that Mexico has started in again and we all wonder if it is true. I can imagine what started it and only hope we can get it back to the old ways. It seems funny to be so far from home, mother, and in a new land, but I hope to enjoy all I can and return to the old country later. The only way we can all be peaceful. As I am not allowed to give much in news, you will know why I don't mention names and other things of interest. But do write me and be sure to get the address as I have it on the envelope.

Your loving son, ROBERT.

Robert Childers, Co. D, 129th S. Infantry, A. E. F.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT STANFORD COLLEGE

Palo Alto, Cal., June 14.—Senior day, ushered in with all the traditions of the school as in past days, opened the 1918 commencement program at Stanford University today. Class day exercises were observed today. This evening a reception will be given for President and Mrs. Lyman Wilbur by the senior class.

Tomorrow will be a busy day. An annual luncheon will be held in the memorial court at noon and a senior alumni dinner in the Union at night, followed by an informal dance.

Archbishop Latta of San Francisco will deliver the benediction address to the class in the Memorial church, Sunday.

Monday will be commencement day. Honorable John McNeil of San Francisco, is the speaker for the occasion. The number of students receiving their diplomas will be considerably less than last year, owing to the large representation of Stanford men in the military forces of the country.

ORDERS ISSUED FOR INSTRUCTION DRILL

Members of Company G Ordered to Report at the Armory at One Thirtieth Sunday.

In the following orders the commanding officer of Company G, 8th Regt. Inf. W. S. G., orders all members of his company out for instruction drill on Sunday afternoon next.

Company G, 8th Regt. Inf. W. S. G., whether on the active or reserve list, are ordered to report at the armory on Sunday afternoon, June 16th, at one thirty, for the purpose of a special instruction drill on subjects ordered studied by the commanding officer of the regiment. The drill will be conducted by the commanding officer of the regiment, who will be conveyed by auto to a drill ground some miles distant from the city and an intensive drill will be held on many subjects. Every member is urged to be present and members of the company owners of automobiles are asked to communicate with the commanding officer at once for transportation purposes, unless they have been previously communicated with.

It is desired to take the full membership of the company on this instruction drill as it is ordered by officers of the regiment, and the company will be marked on attendance. Everything will be in the state camp at sharp two P. M. Sunday.

DAVID ATWOOD, Captain Commanding.

ALLEGED FORGER HELD FOR TRIAL

W. N. Bentley, Charged with Attempting to Cash Forged Check at First National Bank, Enters Plea of Not Guilty.

W. N. Bentley, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of forgery, was arraigned before Judge Maxfield in municipal court this morning charged with attempting to cash a forged check at the First National Bank in this city.

Edward Gokey, who was brought into court yesterday morning for an alleged attack on Charles Schumacher, has his trial postponed until July 22nd. Gokey is charged in the complaint, struck Schumacher in the eye with his crutch. He was given his liberty on $150 bail.

Judge Maxfield listened to the arguments this morning by the attorneys in the case of S. Jones against C. G. Wilson. Wilson is charged with a breach of contract. Attorneys Dougherty and Mount presented their arguments to the judge this morning and the case is also held open.

YANKEES LIVE IN ANCIENT TOWNS

With the American Army in France, June 14.—The young American officer in France again is getting accustomed to wax flowers in glass cases, such as he used to see about his grandmother's house. They are part of the decoration of the room assigned to him as a billet. He is also getting blazes, and ceasing to wonder at old French manners that would cost more than the house in which they hang in France. They also are to be found in billets in villages some distance back of the lines. The difference between the French and the Americans is that the French built so high as to make fall precarious, and topped by fat eiderdowns.

But as you draw nearer the front, billets become more and more barbaric. There is no more wax and men in the barracks and the bare floors. That's in the reserve positions. You move up again and you may be in a cellar, if there are no dugouts. The villages occupied by the Americans in France as they were moving into the line were the oldest, the poorest, the most miserable of homes. Some of the houses were tottering to an early fall. The villages had not been shelled. The houses appeared to be tired, and were sinking down to a level with the outer shell of some of them were of clay and straw. This apparently is an effective mixture, but it won't last long. Some of these houses had been up only 100 years or so.

With the line only a short distance away, many of the villages had been practically evacuated by civilians. There were no stores. Nothing, but places to sleep. In the farming villages, the houses in France are merely incidental to the farming establishment. There are no stores, and the quarters are a hollow square. There is the barnyard. Ducks, geese, rabbits, chickens, dogs, horses—everything but human beings.

Backed for the United Press, a billet in a certain village you might easily have made a mistake and gone into a horse's stall close by, but it was a good horse. The horse is used of standing in, so when it became evident they could not be repulsed, an entente cordiale was affected. With the barn rat, it was possible to get a cockade. No one with an army mind has a rat or two running around the floor. But when the rat stops and starts to make a meal of the only pair of boots you have, it is gone far enough.

But the American officer is welcome in the French village. The housewife not only will do her best to make him comfortable, but all the animals in the welcome. The barnyard rooster will pick a place just outside his window to crow about 4 a. m. Then the dog that he patted the night before will stick his nose in the window, bark a couple of times just to make sure the visitor is awake, and beg to have his ears scratched again. All these things we do not find in a more correspondent, so an officer is certain of as royal a welcome.

SURVEYORS WILL START NEXT WEEK ON FACTORY SITE

General Motors Corporation Plan to Rush Work as Fast as Possible on Their New Plant.

J. A. Craig, general manager of Janesville Machine company and the new Samson Grip Tractor, stated this morning that the surveyors of the General Motors Corporation will probably arrive in Janesville the first of the coming week to make their survey and plotting of the tract of land in Spring Brook which the corporation has acquired for its new plant.

"All titles to the land were completed this morning," stated Mr. Craig. "I expect the surveyors for the General Motors Corporation will be here Monday or Tuesday to start their work. They must figure on proper elevations, drainage and other matters. They will have approximately one hundred and thirty-five acres in the tract of land purchased and this will all be surveyed."

The engineering department already have their tentative plans for the proposed buildings completed, and are anxious for the surveyors to finish their work. Present plans call for the erection of the administration building, facing Eastern avenue, midway between the St. Paul tracks and the Calotte plant, and the factory building, which will be the largest of the new unit of the factory proper will be erected to the westward of this building.

While the permit from Secretary McAdoo to start construction of the new plant, there is no question about it as our new factory will manufacture machinery essential to food production and it appears that the general policy of the government is to encourage the building of essential producing plants.

This week the Janesville Machine Company is holding its annual round-up of its traveling representatives and thirty have been in the city since Monday, discussing ways and means of marketing the new output of the plant.

The annual supper was held Thursday evening at the Myers hotel.

ILLINOIS DRYS READY TO COMMENCE FIGHT

Springfield, Ill., June 14.—Drys of Illinois will begin their fight tomorrow for state ratification of the federal prohibition amendment.

The anti-saloon league is to begin a two-day convention tomorrow afternoon. Some of the most prominent "dry" speakers in the nation will be present. Among them are such celebrities as William Jennings Bryan, United States Senator.

Washington, Bishop Thomas E. Nicholson of the Chicago Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Purley A. Baker, general superintendent of the American League of American, and former Governor Richard Yates.

If the influx of dry workers is any criterion, the drive is certain to be a success. The leaders say, Springfield already is literally deluged with the campaigners. They are coming from far and near and began arriving at an early hour this morning. Almost every representative of the league in Illinois is expected to be in attendance.

The big "ratification rally" will be called to order at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by State President A. J. Scroggin. He will deliver a short address of welcome and introduce Dr. Melburn P. Boynton, who will speak of "Why We Are Here."

Dr. Boynton will be followed by an address from Frank E. Ebbert, who will explain the difference between the primary and real election.

That music is a necessary factor in the rally is evidenced by the presence of the Jackies Band.

Patrol selections during the intermissions in speakers. The band will remain here during the entire two days by order of the commanding officer of the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Feeling with them in the nation, the program is the Chicago Methodist Preachers' Quartet. They will sing special songs under the direction of E. H. Excell.

Mr. Bryan and Wayne B. Wheeler will speak tomorrow night.

CLEVELAND'S PAGEANT DEPICTS ENTRY INTO WAR

Cleveland, O., June 14.—The greatest pageant in the history of Cleveland was staged here today, depicting America's entrance into the world war.

The pageant won special patriotic significance from the day, Flag Day, and from its flag-bedecked setting on the shore of the lake in Wade Park. A chorus of 2,000 voices, an orchestra of 100 pieces and nearly 1,000 performers lent dignity and force to the story of American struggle for the preservation of liberty.

The spectacle was named "For the Freedom of the World" and consisted of three episodes—"Patriotism," "Service" and "Freedom."

In the last episode, "Freedom," the last period Great Britain, Canada, Ireland and Wales were impersonated by young women. Then France entered, led by Joan of Arc on a white charger.

As the strains of the "Marseillaise" as the action progressed they became in urgent need of help and a boat was seen approaching across the lake, with Columbia standing at its bow.

Entered into their troubles and quickly solved them for the benefit of the whole world.

The spectacle was staged under the auspices of the division of parks and public property, the division of educational extension, and the mayor's advisory war board, the latter organization appropriating the necessary money to carry out the performance.

Will Enter Army.

Madison, Wis.—Grady H. Hipp, first assistant actuary in the insurance department, has resigned to enter a training camp at New Bedford, N. J. He left for service Thursday.

Around the State

Impersonate Officers.

La Crosse, Wis.—Oscar Olson and Charles Carstrom impersonated United States secret service agents to force their attentions upon pretty Mabel Thompson, prominent local girl. On Tuesday they were sent to jail. On Thursday they were released for two and one years respectively.

Violates Sunday Law.

La Crosse, Wis.—A year ago Judge Landis of Chicago ordered the saloons here closed on the Sabbath. Tuesday the first arrest for a violation was made. Carl Dille, proprietor of a saloon, denied keeping open here last Sunday and will fight the case, he announced.

Want New Bridge.

La Crosse, Wis.—The government's campaign against trespassers in the railroad yards has caused a demand from motorboat owners here for a bridge across the La Crosse river to Clark's bay where they keep their craft. In previous years they have walked to the bay across the property of the Milwaukee road. Now they do it at the risk of arrest. The plan for a new bridge is now before the council.

Only a Private.

La Crosse, Wis.—After having masqueraded around his home here as a lieutenant in the U. S. engineers for several months, during which time he related thrilling tales of his experiences in the trenches of France, some of which were published in newspapers all over the northwest, Fred J. Bartheld on Tuesday, at the request of the war department, publicly declared he had said, admitted he had been only a private and that he had been discharged from service. He was not wounded. It is understood he will not be prosecuted.

Will Hold Tournament.

Waupaca, Wis.—The Waupaca gun club will give its sixth annual registered trap shooting tournament in this city next Sunday, June 16, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing all day. Experts and amateur shooters are expected from many states. C. H. Larson, Harry Gordon and T. M. Cook are members of the tournament committee. Harry Gordon is president.

Will Hold Picnic.

Waupaca, Wis.—Portage county Guernsey Breeders' association will hold its annual picnic at Jola June 21st, and stock judging contests will be conducted by county agents. O. H. Petersboro, N. H., will be one of the speakers.

In Thick of Battle.

Neenah, Wis.—In a letter penned in a dugout on the front line, Dr. C. C. Del Marquette, former city physician here, addressed Neenah friends, telling them he is in the thick of the fray. He was transferred to the regular army shortly after his arrival in France.

First Photo of Van Mackenson.

Manitowoc, Wis. Department of justice officials are conducting an investigation for enforcement of the espionage act in Manitowoc county and a dozen or more alleged disloyalists have been summoned, thus far. On Wednesday agents of the department seized a large portrait of Gen. von Mackenson which adorned the home of a former city official and confiscated the picture. A Kosuth saloonkeeper was taken into custody but it is not known whether prosecution will follow or not. It is reported that at least a half dozen residents of the city are likely to face warrants.

Arrested at Kenosha.

Appleton, Wis.—Nicholas Arent, charged with breaking his parole, was arrested at Kenosha by Sheriff Ed. Ward. Arent, who lives here, was found guilty several weeks ago of failing to support his family and was paroled for one year on May 30 and the sheriff traced him to Neenah, Racine and Kenosha.

Saloons Quit Business.

Wausau, Wis.—Ten Wausau saloons, three of which have been conducted for more than a quarter of a century, will not take out licenses this year. The high cost of liquor, stringent regulations by the government and the fact that a large number of patrons are away in war work are given as the reasons.

Leave for Fields.

Marquette, Wis.—Two groups of boys, enrolled in the Boys Working Reserve, have left here for work in the sugar beet fields. Twenty-four boys in charge of Prof. Giese of the Menominee, Mich., high school, left here for fields near Bay City, Mich., and another group of 24 left for Kaukauna, Wis. The boys will live in camps.

Resigns Position.

La Crosse, Wis.—Elmer A. Sloan on Wednesday completed 25 years of duty as stamp clerk at the local post office and resigned because of his advanced age. He lost a leg in the civil war, in which he served three years, six months of which were in a Confederate prison.

Much Gas Lost.

La Crosse, Wis.—More than 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas manufactured at the plant of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company here for local consumption leaks from the mains during the year, according to testimony given before the state railroad commission here in the case in which the company is asking an increase of fifty cents per 1000 cubic feet. The consumers pay 1000 cubic feet waste according to the most conservative estimate.

DRIVE FOR SALE OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Liberty Loan Workers Drafted to Push Sale of Stamps Throughout Rock County—Must Go Over the Top.

Secretary's McAdoo's draft of the third Liberty loan organization for putting through the War Savings Stamp campaign, is going to mean that practically every veteran of the April campaign in Janesville will be in the harness next week. There have been no slackers or quitters.

The division of territory between the men and the women, the work laid out for the various teams, and the factory organization will be just the same as in the last loan campaign. There have been a few casualties in the ranks of the women workers, and volunteers are needed to fill the gaps. A couple of the men's captains have been reduced to the ranks for inattention to duty, and new captains have been promoted from within the ranks. The old captains are to continue to serve in the ranks.

Many people do not understand the necessity for this drive at this time. Apparently the powers at Washington have expanded the War Savings Stamp idea from one of thrift and small savings to a vast money-getting plan. The country is now asked to pledge itself to raise by war savings stamps a sum two-thirds as great as the third Liberty loan call, or two billion dollars. This campaign is to get these pledges signed up and filed at the postoffice. No money needs to be paid now. The pledge simply agrees that some time between now and the end of 1918 he will buy war savings stamps to the full amount of his pledge. The dates on which he is to do so are left to his convenience.</
